On New York State’s Parkways

It's the law!

WHY?
When New York State’s picturesque state parkway system was built early in the Twentieth Century, it was designed for automobiles.

Low stone bridges on the parkway system have posted vertical clearances as low as 6’ 11”.

Commercial vehicles often hit and get stuck under these low bridges, causing serious accidents and long delays while they are being removed.

WHAT IF I DO?
Disobeying this regulation and entering a parkway while driving a commercial vehicle results in:

- Fines and/or points on your driver’s license;
- Possible physical injury to you or other drivers;
- Damage to your vehicle;
- Damage to a bridge, signs or guardrail;
- Towing fees in excess of $10,000 for tractor trailers; and
- Reimbursement costs to the state for bridge repair.

CAUTION
Commercial vehicle drivers must look for and obey these signs:

Be alert for these signs. They designate roadways designed for automobiles only, where commercial vehicles are not permitted.

When a bridge has an overhead clearance less than 14 feet, this sign is posted indicating the actual legal overhead clearance of a bridge or elevated structure.
