Question 1
Regarding the requirements for sub-consultants - do sub-consultants providing engineering services for the prime designer need to provide any of the forms for the SOQ? The sub-consultant is not a principal participant, but will be providing engineering services to the prime design firm.

Answer:
No. Sub-consultants that are not Principal Participants or a member of the Design-Build Team (Prime Constructor(s), Prime Designer(s), Prime Construction Inspection Professional Engineering Firm, and Prime Materials Testing Firm or Laboratory) are not required to be listed on forms or provide forms for the SOQ.
